LANGUAGE IN ACTION

..... ACTION IN LANGUAGE

“A six day experiential adventure for people who are serious about developing powerful, far-reaching and enabling language skills for real world applications”

Christina Hall, Ph.D., NLP Meta–Master Trainer

Distinguished authority and a foremost innovator of NLP

To ignore, minimize, underutilize or underestimate the undeniable influence of language on your thinking and behaviour is to weaken the impact of your communication and compromise the quality of your life.

Language develops the mind and influences the body. And as such is one of the most powerful forces in our lives. Perceptions shape language and language shapes perceptions. So it is that language organizes literally every aspect of our lives. Language has power... the power to create your world.

This process–oriented learning format will include the following topics and skills...

- Detecting and creating pivotal points of “neurological leverage” to build foundations of possibility.
- Exploring the nested structure of presupposition as you learn to structure implications to deliver messages at a deeper level.
- Combining linguistic and tonal punctuation to affect unconscious linguistic patterning and “hidden” behavioural presuppositions.
- Extending questions as an information-organizing tool while learning to design questions to structure responses that open up possibilities where there seemed to be none.
- Deframing and using quantification to uncover underlying assumptions to redirect the process of generalization in ways that enrich the range of choice in thinking and in action.
- Utilising the underlying interactional syntax between the Meta Model, Meta Programs and wellformedness conditions to discover the greatest level of Impact.
- Exploring the “Space-Time-View” continuum to effectively and productively use Time smartly as an organising framework.
- And more...

Free the “hidden” power in language to maximum your success... language matters!

“You are going to use words that influence the psychological and organic life of an individual today...and twenty years from now. So, you had better be willing to reflect upon the words you use...seek out and understand their many associations.”

(Milton Erickson, M.D.)

Lively and interactive, this training is based on accelerated and integrative approach to learning. Chris has, through 30 years of exploring and teaching language patterns developed an approach that she calls “Neuro-Systemic Linguistics”.

NLP TRAINING LEADER Christina Hall, Ph.D. NLP Meta–Master Trainer

Christina Hall, Ph.D. A dynamic teacher, who is recognized for her integrity, caring, in-depth knowledge, ability to model and teach NLP, and for the sense of discovery and fun that she brings into the learning environment, opening up new vistas of experience and learning.

Christina, a seasoned and respected international trainer, is acknowledged as a major contributor to the development of NLP. She began her NLP training almost 30 years ago with the NLP Co-Developers during the pioneering days (1977), and became a Certified NLP Trainer in 1980. Having spent five years (1981-1986) in apprenticeship training with NLP Co-Developer, Richard Bandler, Christina has incorporated into her teachings and applications a unique and singular insight.

"As always, Chris is empowering... stimulating... challenging... a delight to be with ... brilliant and more!"
(Training Manager)

Christina has taught NLP throughout the United States, Canada, the United Kingdom, Germany, Austria, France, Italy, Netherlands, Poland, Croatia, Hungary, Australia and Japan. She is particularly proud to have been part of a 4-person team that developed and successfully implemented, in Croatia, the "Comprehensive Trauma Therapy Intervention"... a humanitarian project for victims of war, jointly sponsored by the German and Croatian Governments.

Often called "the expert's expert," Chris, has been described by Richard Bandler, NLP Co-Creator, as "The Ultimate Wordsmith... The person who has probably taught me more about NLP... and who continues to prove there is no end to this field."

TESTIMONIALS

“For quite some time people in the know were telling me that Christina Hall is one of the outstanding NLP trainers. So I made it a goal to be on one of her training's. Having now been through three of Chris's trainings I can say, with absolute certainty that my understanding and application of NLP is at a completely new level. If you want to understand the underlying processes of NLP so you can know precisely how to direct your communication then this training is a must.”

John Dashfield - Business Coaching and Development

“I know its a mind read, but I wonder if you fully appreciate the tremendous impact of your teachings, both initially and as a continuing process as insights continue to be made each and everyday. You truly are one of the magicians.”

Walter Marker, Physicist, NASA & NLP Trainer Associate

“As a former manager for a Fortune 500 company and a current school teacher, most traditional NLP techniques (touch anchors, hypnotic language, closed-eye processes, etc.) have never been appropriate to my work situation. That is why I cherish what I learned from Chris... effective and usable in both the boardroom and the classroom.”

A. K., Los Angeles

“Christina Hall has allowed me to experience NLP at a new level. Through her training I have been able to inject powerful reframings and questionings into my everyday work and use it for our courses to help people modify unhealthy behaviour. Christina is living what she preaches and allowed me to really hear, see and feel the many ways in which her teachings can be applied. She is a great trainer and you will gain great insights while having a lot of fun.”

LANGUAGE IN ACTION

..... ACTION IN LANGUAGE

This six day training is for people who really love language and want to deeply explore and learn more graceful applications

Try to imagine life without language! Difficult, if not impossible, isn't it? Because everything you see, hear and feel is given meaning through language, living as you know it simply wouldn't exist.

"We are affected every hour of our life not only by the words we hear and use, but also by our unconscious assumptions about language."
(S. I. Hayakawa, Linguist)

The full cost of this six day training is only £795
